One reading changes

May conflict with the remaining readings

Several change together

May still fit
the grid model

Model consistency and data truth are different checks