
Study review is a separate step from authority to operate equipment.